All Minds Are Not Constituted Alike. Parents should make every effort to place within the reach of their children the greatest variety of reading. All minds are not constituted alike. child has its peculiar dislikes. What will interest, amuse and instruct one will prove wearisome to another. The boy or girl who has every object placed before him, in other words who has a complete library, is almost certain to be entertained thereby and early acquires habits of industry and a love of tooks and home.

Such a library is proved in the Encyclopedia Britannica offered by the TRIBUNE. Do you realize that this is a reprint page for page of the great Ediuburg edition sold by Charles Scribner's sons at $5 a vol ume besides having nearly 2,000 pages of supplemental matter added to it and an entirely new line of maps-1890 issue? ANOTHER NEW CHURCH DEDICATED

Rev. S. C. Logan, D. D., Preaches the Dedicational Sermon at the Sumner Avenue Presbyterian Church-Three Funerals in Two Days-Last Sad Rites Over Mrs. Albro Largely Attended - News

[The West Side office of the SCRANTON TRIBUNE is located at 128 South Main avenue, where subscriptions, advertisements and communications will receive prompt attention. I

The dedicatory services of the Sumner Avenue Presbyterian church were held yesterday. The church was beau-tifully decorated with potted plants and flowers which formed a heavy embankmeat in front of the pulpit. After a preliminary service Rev. S.C. Lozan, D.D., preached an excellent sermon. He chose for his text I Corinthians 22-23: "For the Jews require a sign, and the Greeks seek after wisdom" But we preach Christ crucified unto the Jews a stumbling block, and unto the Greeks foolishness." During his remarks Dr. Logan said we are here today to dedicate this bouss to the worship of the living God. In this text we have the subject of all divine preaching. It would be well to understand what He means when these words are uttered. Suppose we should see these three men upon the cross with the multitude's attention drawn toward the central figure We would undoubtedly ask the question: Who is this man? To this question there are two answers. He is a Jew of the purest blood. He is a native of Galilee, a young man of 33, with a reputation which no man dars question. He has been persecuted and has also returned good for evil. The lower order of people said that He was good, but the question which had to be onsidered at that time was whether He was a worthy leader or a worthless and man. He was only a man and a Nazarene. If we look up history we vill find that the question of His being a mere man is divided. In what He has done, and what He has refused to do, goes to show that the answer that He is only an imaginary man will not Even the Greeks and barbarians reseived two apostles a few years later. was in those days perfectly known that He was more than an ordinary prophet, for He could not only tell the future, but could recall the the past, and recall it truthfully. He knew what was in man, and it his was true, He must have made man. Hence, he must have been Gol. He was the Editor T. P. Ryder and Advertising Agent Ike E. Long, of the Wilkes-Barre Record, were calling on local newspaper seen. We recall the world has seen. We retail the world have died. These, then, Miss Kathryne McDonald, of Monroe would not have died.' These, then, avenue, and Miss Kitty Mitchell, of Penn are the two answers which we should avenue, were the guests of West Pittston receive from the surging crowd near receive from the surging crowd near the cross. When we analyse these answers we find that either is sufficient as he is both God and man. When the people were asked, 'Who is this man?' they answered, This is Jesus, the saviour of the Jews,' This is the Christ which the crucified, whereby we must come if we He hangs there as a malefactor, but no ifted here and exposed to the world for his claims. He may have been misun-derstood, but however blind His judges, He hangs there as a culprit. It is perfeetly known that He had a legion of angels at His command, and did not hang there because he had to. We come to another question, 'Why does He hang there?' It is because He is a sacrifice for the sons of the earth. During His whole life no svil was ever discerned in Him toward God or As death is the penalty of sin, He died for those who have commit-ted sins. He does it to fulfiil a covenant divinely sealed that God should send His only begotten Son to die for sinners. Gol's promise of grace be-came the prophecy of salvation. Sin is so horrible and God's love so great hat Jesus is there as a recompence. This is tife Christ, the true preacher of the world, and by whom all preach-ing must be judged. A man who ndertakes to preach the gospel with Christ on the outside will meet with disaster. If we are without Christ we are without hope of redemption.

An afternoon service was held at 2 o'clock, at which Rev. James McLeod, D. D., preached an eloquent sermon.
A large collection was taken up to ijquidate the debt of the church. Rev. Dr. Logan preached again at the evening services.

Interred at Forest Bill. The auditorium of the Simpson Methodist church was crowded yesterday afternoon when the last rites over the remains of Mrs. Lavina Albro, of Chestnut street, were held. At 1 30 o'clock Undertaker Price conveyed the remains to the church, where an eloquent sermon was preached by the pastor, Rev. L. C. Floyd, D. D., who spoke in eulogistic terms on the faith and goodness of the departed one, Hiawatha council No. 261, Daughters of Pocahontas, Independent Order of Red Men, Ludies' Auxiliary, Brotherhood of Locomotive Trainmen, and Woman's Relief corps of Griffin Post 139, Grand Army of the Republic, all of which the deceased was a member, were in attendance. The floral offerings were very beautiful, among them being the following: A "Gates Ajar," pillow inscribed with a "T.," and star. These were presented by the lodges. Five electric cars were detailed to carry the ladies' societies to Forest Hill

General Notes of Interest. A man was found drunk and wandering around the streets at an early hour yesterday morning. He was locked up in the station house by Officer Palmer, Mrs. Gordon Evans, of Catawissa, has returned home after a visit with friends on this side. David J. Walters, of the Ready Pay stere, has accepted a similar position at Clarke Bros.

A lantern entertainment and social will be given by Classes 22 and 23 of the Plymonth Congregational church on Wednesday evening. The proceeds of the affair will go toward defraying the building expenses of the church. Young Hand, who was arrested on Friday last by Police Sergeant Williams for using fire arms on the street, is still incarcerated in the West Side

Ex-Chief of Police Byron R. Wade, of South Sumner avenue, was out on Saturday for the first time since his Mrs. Thomas Morton of Frink street, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Row-land Davies, at Greenwood.

GODWIN IS NOT INSANE.

The Proceedings Before Commissioner C. B. Gardner Withdrawn. Commissioner C. B. Gardner and a jury consisting of William Blume, Roderick Jones, J. H. Dusenberry, Fred Wagner, W. H. Roe and E. S. Decker, on Saturday heard testimony with regard to the sanity of James Godwin. The proceedings were instituted by his sister in-law, Mrs. Mary McDonnell. District Attorney Kelly and Attorney C. H. Welles appeared for the petitioner, and Attorneys P. W. Stokes and S. B. Price for Mr. Godwin. Daniel A. Dougherty, who signed an affilavit, which was filed with the petition, said that he had not read the fil lavit carefully and signed it suppos ing it some necessary paper in the set-tlement of the estate. Mr. Godwin, he said, was a man of peculiar habits and unlettered, but he believed him careful of his own affairs, and was certain not to squauder his estate or to give it

C. Q Carman, J. M. Rose, J. J. Marshall, E. J. McNally and Thomas Mc-Court, witnesses summoned by the petitioner, testified that though Mr. Godwin was unlettered and eccentric to some extent, they believed that he was able to manage his own affairs. None of the witnesses called could swear that he was insane.

James Godwin was then placed upon the stand. He answered the questions put to him by the attorneys promptly and intelligently. He acknowledged that he could not read or write, but declared that he could count money as well as anybody. After his testimony Mr. Welles, Mr. Kelly and Mrs. Mc-Donnell consulted for a few minutes and Mr. Welles announced that the proceedings had been brought in good faith, but that the testimony of Mr. Godwin and others had convinced them of his sanity, and that they would not withdraw the proceedings.

Suffers Internal Injuries. Chevalier Cliquot, the sword swallower, who appeared at the Palace museum last season, and who made his home in Scranton during the summer of 1893, gave an exhibition of his peculiar powers before a number of New York doctors on Saturday and suffered internal injuries from the effects of which he is not expected to re-

After swallowing all sorts of swords Cliquot swallowed a long cavalry sabre, and to show that there was no deception about the act he placed a bar on the hilt which protruded from his mouth and weighted the bar with fourteen pound dumbbells. Cliquot then rested a few moments and took fourteen swords, the blades of which were about an inch wide and, placing them in his mouth, swallowed them. One of the doctors, for whose benefit the exhibition was given, instead of drawing the swords out singly, drew them out all at once, cutting Cliquot severely and causing him to faint.

SUICIDE OF THOMAS R. JAMES

Supposed to Have Been Driven Insane by the Pains That He Endured. A Constant Sufferer for Six Years from a Disease That Baffled Medical Skill-Death of Harry Dalton-Shorter Paragraphs of News.

Thomas R. James, one of the most respected citizens of the Twentieth ward, met death at his own hands yesterday morning at 3 o'clock. He was suffering intense pain and committed the act while Mrs. James had gone down stairs to get him a drink of lemonade, so anxious was she for his wel-fare and so much did she desire to be with him that she would not make the lemonade down stairs, but was taking the ingredients with her so that she could make the drink at his bedside, when the report of a firearm startled her and when she reached the bedside which she had left a couple of minutes previous her husband was dead.

Mr. James was about 58 years old and been in the employ of Connell & Co. for twenty-four years. For saveral years he had been employed as night watchman at the Meadow Brook stores. During the past six years he had en lured excruciating pains that the best medical skill could not relieve and his friends suppose that it was while under the influence of a very severe attack, his reason for the time being detbroued, that he took his life. His sufferings must have been something terribly racking both to body and min !. He had fallen away so that he had become a mere skeleton. Mr. James was a mem-ber of the Cedar Avenue Methodist Episcopal church and is survived by a widow and one son.

Death of Harry Dalton. Harry Dalton, who had as many friends as any man in the Twentieth ward, died yesterday. His death was very sudden, On Fri-day he complained of severe that extended from hand to his brain, and stated that he had endured some severe attacks and that he feared he would have to succomb to the next one. His expectaions were only too truly realized.

Mr. Dalton was very generally liked He was of an inventive turn of mind and his brain was a veritable store house of facts. He had read much and ossessed a most retentive memory. He had traveled extensively and was an entertaining conversationalist. A widow and family survive him.

Funeral of Ferdinand Schmidt, The funeral of Ferdinand Schmidt was held Saturday afternoon from the residence of his brother, Officer Erast Schmidt, of Prospect avenue, Rev. Mr. Kissling, of the German Evangelical church, conducted the service it the residence and his choir sang and a section of the Szenzerrunde sang several selections. The remains were nterred in Pittston Avenue cemetery. The pall bearers were Henry Mohn T. H. Spruks, William Pilger, Frank Jollity galore will prevail at the Kellerman, Vincent Big and Albert was attended by prominent citizens from every section of the city.

No Alarm Was Sounded. About 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon smoke was seen issuing from the siting room of A. Rempe's Cedar avenue hotel. There was no person in the room at the time. Mrs. Rempe saw the smoke and at once became excited. She awakened her husband, who was sleeping, and he promptly located the trouble. It was an overcoat of one of the boarders in which a lighted pipe had been placed.

The Independent Hose company re-ceived its new hose carriage from W. W. Winder, of Reading, Saturday night. It is one of the handsomest carriages in this section and is fitted with all the modern improvements. It is finished in buff trimmed with ver-million and gold. Printed in large letters directly under the driver's seat is the company's motto, "Duty Our Pride." The brake, which is under the care of the driver, is a patent releasing one. There is also an arrangement to release the reel and a large rotary gong, all of which will be operated by the driver. Five men can be carried on the carriage. It is so arranged that either a team or a single horse can be bitched. the change taking but a few moments The rollers on which the hose will run are all nickel plated, and no matter which side, top or bottom, the hose strikes there is a roller to facilitate its action. Five hundred feet of new hose is on the real. The boys, who are proud of this latest addition to their apparatus, will hold a public reception in the Keyetone hall which adjoins their hose house Thursday night. A street parade will be held before the reception.
